THINK & PRAY

Isaiah 1:18

"Come now, let's settle this," says the Lord. "Though your sins are like scarlet, I will make them as white as snow. Though they are red like crimson, I will make them as white as wool."

LEARN & LIVE

Isaiah is listed first of the major prophets. In Old Testament times when God had a message he used a prophetic voice to share it. In this case, Isaiah, who spans four different Kings of Judah. The messages are one of judgement, but at the heart of this is God's grace and desire to forgive, pointing forward to when there will be nothing that Jesus can't make whiter than snow. This concludes with the future of Jerusalem being glorious and one that is to be remembered throughout the book whenever reading judgement.
