Dress Code for all Therapists

Please remember that you are a professional and that appropriate dress must be worn at all times while engaged in client work.

Dress must be clean and smart; please do not 'power-dress' or wear extensive or excessive jewellery. This more toned down approach to clothing could be helpful in developing a therapeutic relationship.

We ask you to consider the impression that you make on clients and their expectations of a professional service at the Therapy Service. Within this boundary however we welcome and respect your choice of clothing within your own individuality.

However please avoid:

Holed jeans

Leggings with only a short T-shirt

Extremely short skirts

Shorts

Bare midriffs

Laddered or holed leggings/tights

Spaghetti strap tops

See through top clothing where under garments are exposed i.e. underpants or bra

Tops where considerable cleavage is visible

Overly tight clothing

We reserve the right to ask you to respectfully amend your dress if it fails to meet professional standards. Dress code does not apply when attending training or workshops. However on any occasion when we are representing Renewal Therapy Service please remain professional.

Dress Code policy v4.0.
